A mother’s narrative of perseverance following her son’s traumatic brain injury, Unthinkable is filled with universal lessons of struggle and triumph. Following each chapter of the harrowing journey are vital insights to assist others through their tragedies.

REVIEWS

“…opened my eyes to the real and powerful emotions, hardships, and obstacles that families face after traumatic brain injury and throughout recovery and the long rehabilitation process.”
— Amy Pasternak, Doctor of Physical Therapy, Franciscan Hospital for Children

“…important for clinicians who treat patients with neurological injuries, like TBI, as well as for the families who have been touched by it, to remind us that the power of family can be the best medicine.”
— Lisa Brown, Physical Therapist, Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital–Boston

“A story of hope and patience that will help others confronting unimagined challenges.”
— Joel Herskowitz, MD, Pediatric Neurologist, Boston University School of Medicine

“…inspires you to live life to the fullest, to fight for faith in the midst of unthinkable tragedy, and, above all, to never underestimate the power of love.”
— Katrin Schumann, co-author of Mothers Need Time Outs, Too (McGraw-Hill)
